- Determine your financial ask through several free business planning meetings.

- Have your loan documents prepared by Great Plains Development.

- Use your loan package to present to banks, CKDI and other funding opportunities.

Getting your business started can seem like a daunting task. At CKDI, our goal is to give you ample support in planning and in the first stages of executing your vision to ensure your business is success.

With our partners at the Small Business Development Center, Great Plains Development and Great Bend Economic Development, along with our board comprised of 18 individuals who have seen their own business successes, we feel like we've composed a winning team to help you reach your goals.
